

QUARTERLY STATISTICAL HIGHLIGHT

QUARTERLY STATISTICS ON CIVIL ENFORCEMENT ACTIONS (2007-2022)

Pending civil enforcement actions and clearance rate – Quarterly evolution¹

In the first quarter of 2022, the number of pending civil enforcement actions has decreased 12,2% when compared to the end of the first quarter of 2021. On 31 March 2022, the number of pending civil enforcement actions was 383.200 (table 1).

The clearance rate², that measures the capacity of the system on a given moment to face the demand verified on that same moment, was 143,8%, in the first quarter of 2022. This resulted in a decrease in the pendency in this quarter. The first quarter of 2022 is the 30th consecutive quarter with a clearance rate higher than 100% (table 2).

Table 1 - Pending civil enforcement actions, per quarter

Table 2 - Clearance rate of the civil enforcement actions, per quarter the first quarter of 2010. Considering the similar periods corresponding to the first quarter of each year under analysis, the value registered in the first quarter of 2022 is the tenth consecutive value where the clearance rate has been higher than 100% (table 4).

Table 3 - Pending civil enforcement actions, 1st quarter

Pending civil enforcement actions, clearance rate and disposition time^{3 4} – Similar periods

Regarding the similar periods corresponding to the first quarters of the years 2007 to 2022 and notwithstanding the increase verified between the first quarter of 2007 and the first quarter of 2012, in the first quarters of 2013 to 2022 there was an accumulated decrease of 69,0% in the number of pending civil enforcement actions (a decrease of 2,0% in 2013, of 13,0% in 2014, of 5,8% in 2015, of 8,9% in 2016, of 15,1% in 2017, of 13,0% in 2018, of 14,7% in 2019, of 12,3% in 2020, of 12,7% in 2021 and of 12,2% in 2022), when compared to the first quarter of 2012 (table 3).

Table 4 - Clearance rate of the civil enforcement actions, 1st quarter

In the first quarter of 2022, the clearance rate was 143,8%, an increase of 66,1 percentage points when compared to the minimum value of 77,7% registered in

In the first quarter of 2022, the disposition time was of 859 days, having been registered a decrease in view of the value registered in the first quarter of 2021. Compared to the maximum value registered in the first quarter of 2010, the value registered in the first quarter of 2022 is the second lowest value of the disposition time (table 5).

Table 7 - Procedural balance of the civil enforcement actions, 1st quarter

New and completed civil enforcement actions and procedural balance – Similar periods

In the first quarter of 2022, the number of completed civil enforcement actions has been higher than the number of new civil enforcement actions⁵ (table 6).

Table 6 - New and completed civil enforcement actions, 1st quarter

The procedural balance⁶ (table 7), in the first quarter of 2022 was positive, corresponding to less than 12.405 cases. This balance justifies the decrease in the pendency, and is the tenth consecutive similar quarter recording a favourable evolution.

Average duration⁷ of completed civil enforcement actions – Similar periods

Regarding the average duration of the civil enforcement actions completed between the first quarter of 2007 and the first quarter of 2022, it is possible to verify that the value has ranged between 39 and 64 months (table 8). In the first quarter of 2022, when compared to the first quarter of 2007, there was an increase of 16 months in the average duration of the completed civil enforcement actions. Considering the similar period, corresponding to the first quarter of 2021, in the first quarter of 2022 there was a decrease of 9 months in the average duration of the completed civil enforcement actions. The increase of the average duration of completed cases between the first quarter of 2007 and the first quarter of 2022 is followed by an increase in the percentage of the older cases that were completed in those quarters. When compared to the minimum value registered in the similar period of 2007, in the first quarter of 2022, the ratio of completed cases that were awaiting a final decision for more than 5 years (60 months) has increased 14,3 percentage points. In relation to the overall total, this percentage has increased, going from 21,0% in the first quarter of 2007, to 35,3% in the first quarter of 2022.

In this perspective, data given in this statistical highlight refer just to the total of civil enforcement actions, and include those cases that are not awaiting the practice of any act by the court⁸.

Pending civil enforcement actions in the first instance courts (quarterly evolution)

Article 551(5) of the Civil Procedure Code, approved by the Law 41/2013, of 26 June, sets forth that the enforcement procedure takes place in court when the law requires or indicates that the court registry or the judge should take action within their competence and until they do so.

As such, the enforcement procedure must not be considered as pending in court under any other circumstance.

Footnotes

¹ Pending cases correspond to cases that have not yet had a final decision, judgment, sentence or order, in their respective instance, regardless of res judicata. These are cases that are waiting for acts or diligences to be carried out by the court, by the parties or by other entities. In certain types of cases, they may also be waiting for certain facts to occur or for a time period to run out. A suspended case is, for instance, a pending case, irrespective of the cause of suspension. In the case of pending civil enforcement actions in particular, and according to the legal model in force until 1 September 2013, where the new Civil Procedure Code entered in force, the cases rather than awaiting the practice of acts by the courts, may be waiting for acts to be carried out by external entities, public or private, as well as the practice of acts by the enforcement agents. A pending case is not necessarily a delayed case, as it may be a case that is running within the legal timeframes.

² The clearance rate corresponds to the ratio of the total volume of completed cases over the total volume of new cases. If equal to 100% the volume of new cases is equal to the completed ones, being the variation of the pendency zero. If greater than 100%, there is a recovery in the pendency. The higher this indicator is the higher the recovery in the pendency in that year. If less than 100%, the volume of new cases is higher than the completed ones, generating pendency for the following year.

⁴ As the indicators are calculated based on the number of new and completed cases, the clearance rate and the disposition time of the periods in which internal transfers occur between organic units/courts may be affected, and should therefore be interpreted accordingly.

⁵ In the first quarters of the years 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021 and 2022 were registered, respectively, in the legal model in force until 1 September 2013, , 82.497, 62.402, 66.814, 71.674, 74.387, 131.665, 71.070, 49.305, 50.353, 43.339, 41.704, 34.603, 33.910, 27.860, 23.862 and 28.302 new civil enforcement actions and also respectively, 99.331, 63.057, 60.491, 55.700, 71.441, 128.167, 113.759, 97.247, 73.666, 77.258, 75.907, 62.464, 62.534, 45.615, 40.062 and 40.707 completed civil enforcement actions. However, from these totals only 69.707, 60.806, 64.811, 70.250, 72.670, 79.214, 69.617, 46.843, 46.631, 39.966, 37.838, 32.162, 26.809, 25.411, 21.440 and 25.313 completed civil enforcement actions correspond to actual movements of beginning and end of the cases. The remaining 12.790, 1.596, 2.003, 1.424, 1.717, 52.451, 1.453, 2.462, 3.722, 3.373, 3.866, 2.441, 7.101, 2.449, 2.422 and 2.989 cases do not correspond to new civil enforcement actions or to civil enforcement actions that have been completed. These numbers on new and completed cases refer to the total of civil enforcement actions that have run internally between organic units/courts. They are not thus cases that have re-entered the Portuguese courts but cases that were completed in the organic unit/court from where they left and that have entered the organic units/courts to which they were transferred.

⁶ The procedural balance corresponds to the difference between new and completed cases. If positive, there is an increase in the pendency. If negative, there is a decrease in the pendency.

⁷ The average duration of a completed enforcement case in court, according to the legal model in force until 1 September 2013, corresponds to the period of time between the day in which the case began in the court first seized and the day it was completed, even if re-distributed, that is, between the day the case began in the court where it entered and the day it was completed in that same court or in any another court to which it has been redistributed. The concept of average duration used in this statistical highlight corresponds to the so-called duration of the initial case, to which the duration in the various courts where it has run is added.

⁸ Following the changes introduced in the processing system of the first instance courts on the implementation of the aforementioned legal provision in October 2017, the works necessary for its implementation in the scope of the Justice official statistics, including the monitoring of data quality are being carried out. These works will enable us to portray, in this context, the evolution of the civil enforcement actions in the first instance courts.

Framework note – Time scope and other considerations

From 2007, the statistical data related to the cases in the first instance courts are directly gathered from the courts' computer system. Thus the present procedural situation corresponds to the cases that are recorded in this system. In the new and completed cases are included those that were transferred between organic units as a result of extinction and creation of new courts or sections.
